

Wild Swans - Ian Luther

Did you know swans mate for life
And did you know so should a husband and a wife
And did you know a crocodile could never cry
But did you know that when you left me nor did I

And sometimes I wish upon a star
If I could make this world a better place
By playing my guitar

Did you know the mayfly loves to dance
And did you know it never gets a second chance
And did you know a spider eats its mate
But did you know that I met the same fate

And sometimes I wish upon a star
If I could make this world a better place
By playing my guitar

And sometimes I wish upon a star
If I could make this world a better place
By playing my guitar
